Keeping traffic moving

In addition to the restoration work at the four corners, crews will place a final layer of asphalt and paint permanent stripes on the road starting in spring.

Construction crews will maintain at least one lane in each direction at all times. Drivers should be prepared to follow occasional signed detours.

Parking closed on NE 65th Street

To keep traffic open in all directions, parking will be closed on NE 65th Street between Roosevelt Way NE and Brooklyn Avenue NE for the entire restoration project.

Why is Sound Transit restoring the intersection?

Repeated trenching for earlier utility relocations required many parking and traffic restrictions at the intersection. Utility relocation work ended in fall 2014. By this summer, crews will return the intersection to its final configuration. Drivers will once again be able to turn left from eastbound NE 65th Street to northbound 12th Avenue NE.
